

In egalitarian society there are no rich and no poor. The fruits of the economy—products and services—are freely shared (or equitably rationed) according to need, among all who are willing to work reasonably.

PDRBoston.org