

LISTEN LIBERAL!

Liberal NPR, Democracy Now, The Nation, Mother Jones, the Boston Globe, Elizabeth Warren and Bernie Sanders—they are all (just like the conservative media and politicians) hiding a Big Fact. The Big Fact is that most Americans—liberal or not!—know we live in a dictatorship of the rich, and would very much love to remove the rich from power and have real, not fake democracy, with no rich and no poor, no racial or gender discrimination and no unjust wars. What most people really want has a name: egalitarian revolution!

This is why most people who read PDRBoston's egalitarian revolutionary declaration, "This I Believe," sign it, in urban liberal Boston and conservative rural New Hampshire alike.

The liberal media want their audience to believe the Big Lie that only liberals want an egalitarian revolution and that people who don't listen to NPR and who may prefer conservative radio stations are racists and bigots and love capitalism. The essence of liberalism is to believe this Big Lie! It's no truer than the idea that most NPR listeners must support the War on Terror and capitalism since NPR does.

This Big Lie prevents liberals from joining other Americans to make an egalitarian revolution.

All the media—liberal and conservative—censor the egalitarian revolutionary views held by most people. Big Money owns the liberal and conservative media and uses them to keep people in the dark about the Big Fact that there is an egalitarian vision of how society ought to be, and that most people love it when they hear about it. Big Money doesn't want people to know there is a better alternative to our dictatorship of the rich—and it's better than anti-democratic Socialism or Communism. And they want those who do know to feel so hopelessly alone that they will think it futile to fight for it.

Reject liberalism's Big Lie and embrace what a majority of Americans want: egalitarian revolution. So join us at the talk and discussion Tuesday, Oct. 14.
